MASTER'S PROGRAMS AT MBS

FOUR PARTS MAKE UP ONE UNIQUE WHOLE

Core Modules

Our Master's programs teach general business knowledge through the Core Modules. You will learn to understand economic contexts in an increasingly complex world, to consider social and cultural aspects in your business decisions, and to interpret them correctly. The emphasis is on promoting critical examination of a wide range of topics as well as practical application of methods and models.

Interdisciplinary links between the Core Modules also give you the opportunity to work on various projects together with students from other Master's programs. How does an aspiring entrepreneur see the challenges of the future, what drives marketing professionals, and what perspective can a finance student add? You learn together, from each other, and thus develop sound knowledge.

Program Specific Modules

In Program Specific Modules you will acquire specific expertise: in the MA IE, you will deal with the latest innovation strategies, get to know procedures and methods of ideation and prototyping, and learn all about founding and scaling a business. In this way, we prepare you for a successful career as an entrepreneur or corporate innovation manager.

The general MA IB gives you the opportunity to customize your studies with six specializations such as Innovation and Digital Business, International Marketing, and Sustainable Business.

The MA FIN offers you a broad education in financial management, financial statement analysis, mergers and acquisitions, risk management, capital markets and much more.

In the MA SBC, you will get to know all facets of sports management. You will deal with sports sponsoring and communication, as well as license and rights exploitation, and thus become a sought-after specialist for sports clubs, associations and companies in the sports industry.

In the MA IMBM, you cover aspects such as developing and implementing marketing and branding strategies, and how to organize integrated marketing communication in a digital environment.

Business Project

In the two-semester Business Project, you will work in small teams on real projects on behalf of a company. These live cases are as diverse as the businesses that present them: from start-ups that need a market entry strategy for a new target country, to hidden champions from Bavaria seeking ideas for a brand awareness campaign. It's not uncommon for Business Projects to result in concrete job opportunities for the respective group of students.

Electives

Our Electives are another way for you to customize your Master's program further: learn a new language, take project management courses or take the "Success Factor Happiness" course. The range and topics of the electives can vary from semester to semester.

Guillermo Tamborrel Signoret
Alumnus Master International

"The lecturers in the Master's program not only teach their expertise but also share their personal experiences and how it's placed into action on a business daily basis. Professors go even further, they become more like coaches and mentors."

WHY MUNICH?

Laptops and lederhosen: Few other cities embody the fusion of tradition and modernity quite as vividly as Munich. First celebrated in 1810, Oktoberfest is just as much a part of the city's image as the innovative architecture of the Siemens and Microsoft buildings.

Munich is international: People from around 180 different countries call the Bavarian state capital their home. The city is a magnet to people from around the world, particularly young people, which has led Munich to rival Berlin for the title of "Germany's multicultural capital".

Munich is Germany's #1 business hotspot: Numerous companies have put down roots in Munich, from innovative start-ups to medium-sized hidden champions and DAX-listed companies with global operations.

Munich is one of Germany's most livable cities: Munich offers outstanding quality of life and also ranks highly in international comparisons.

You'll never be bored in Munich: Whether it's stylish clubs, outstanding shopping experiences, prestigious events or the countless green spaces for outdoor activities, there's no shortage of things to see, do and discover in and around Munich.

CAMPUS LIFE

GET INVOLVED

In addition to the regular curriculum, you can also get involved in a variety of student associations. These initiatives not only enrich local campus life at Munich Business School, but also promote the development of soft skills such as communication, teamwork and project management. As well as events, parties and excursions, there's also an impressive range of sports on offer.
